

How to read this: An arrow (A->B) means "A can be useful in proofs of B". [CRS] means there is an analog in the theory of compact Riemann Surfaces. Of course, any local property carries over to Riemann Surfaces as well. Theorems in italics are not likely to be covered in a first half-year course.

